

Gemini 3 Flash

May 31, 2026

Conversation with Gemini

I have another Latin document from 1387, written in Gothic Secretarial Hand. Please do your best to transcribe.

Here is a diplomatic transcription of the 14th-century Latin royal letter from the image jun-2-transcribe-f160v-161r.jpg.

The text is a standard administrative mandate from King John I of Aragon ("Johannes dei gratia rex Aragonum..."), standardizing common abbreviations (like noster, vobis, regia) according to the context of the Gothic secretarial hand.

Transcription

[Line 1] Johannes rex / fideli nostro iusticie Barchinone salutem. [Line 2] et graciam. Quia de modo perpetracionis necis dudum in persona Iacobi Grussa [Line 3] vicini de Elna illate, de qua predicta nece discretus Iohanni filio [Line 4] Antonii iura de Elna fuit delatus, volumus informari, ideo vobis dicimus [Line 5] et mandamus de certa nostra sciencia et sub pena predicta / iniungentes quatenus de

[Line 6] predictis informacionem plenariam, vocatis primitus dicto occisi propinquioribus et [Line 7] eam regia clausam et sigillata ut ei per nos fides adhiberi valeat [Line 8] transmittatis / ubi dictis iusticie minime presumatis, ita quod de certa nostra sit voluntas.

[Line 9] Datum Barchinone IIII die Iunii Anno a nativitate domini Mo CCCo Lo XXXo [Line 10] VIIo. Ex commissione iam dicta etc. Dominicus de Maiorico.

Paleographical & Contextual Notes

- Scribal Corrections: In line 2, the scribe initially wrote perpetratoris (perpetrator) but crossed it out with a horizontal stroke and corrected it to perpetracionis (the perpetration/commission [of the murder]).
- The Chancellery Sign-off: The final line features the signature of the chancellery official or scribe, Dominicus de Maiorico (Dominic of Majorca).

- Dating Clause: The Roman numerals in line 9 read Mo CCCo Lo XXXo VIllo, which resolves exactly to the year 1387 (Millesimo CCCo octuagesimo septimo). The letter was issued in Barcelona (Barchinone) on the 4th of June (IIII die Iunii).

Gemini is AI and can make mistakes.